The Decodables

See Page 5

The Decodables series contains books following a systematic, cumulative phonics scope and sequence aligned with the science of reading. The words within each text have been carefully selected to ensure that readers can rely on their decoding skills as they encounter new or unfamiliar words. Within the 6 different sub series, readers grow comfortable with a mix formats; wordless books and fiction and non-fiction with photo or original art illustration. Readers will also learn various components of books such as chapters, table of contents, and word lists.

The Decodables

The Decodables series incorporates the research and findings of the science of reading. The term “science of reading” refers to the research that reading experts, especially cognitive scientists, have conducted on how we learn to read. Each book follows an expertly crafted scope and sequence that incorporates fundamental spelling patterns such as CVC, VC, diagraphs, consonant blends, and vowel patterns. Additionally, titles are broken down into 6 unique sets that are specific to grade levels and spelling patterns which enhances language comprehension and word recognition. A corresponding Teacher Guide/Lesson Plan will be available for each title to help reinforce decodable text concepts and patterns both in the classroom and at home.

STEM Superstars

Science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) have changed the world. STEM Superstars explores the diverse lives and careers of people who have made amazing breakthroughs. Learn more about these people and their all-star work. Each book contains fun facts, a glossary, an index, and places to go to learn more.

Continuing Series • 4 New Titles • See page 13

"Pertinent information about famous scientists is presented in these four introductory volumes. Employing simple, straightforward prose, Parkin succinctly provides basic personal and professional facts about the subjects. (T)hese titles appropriately introduce young readers to scientists of whom they will learn more in their future studies.

VERDICT: Young readers will find these volumes helpful in learning about noted scientists, and libraries should consider."

Chapter 2

Star Studies

Hawking went to college. He was only 17. The school was University College in Oxford. Hawking studied physics. This time, he did well in school. Later, he went to the University of Cambridge. He studied outer space.

★ Hawking's parents wanted him to be a doctor.

10

Ochoa has been on four space missions.

14

Did You Know?
Ochoa took her flute to space.

In 1993, Ochoa went on her first space mission. She was the first Hispanic female astronaut. She studied energy from the Sun. She saw how it affects Earth. Ochoa was in space for nine days.

Tech Bytes – Exploring Space

Technology has allowed people to explore space—from building and launching spacecraft to walking on the moon and finding black holes! Tech Bytes: Exploring Space takes readers on an exciting out-of-this-world voyage and uncovers cutting-edge technology. This series supports STEM and NGSS standards. Each book contains fact boxes, sidebars, a glossary, an index, and places to go for more information.

New Series • 6 New Titles • See page 22

“With an estimated 3,000 dead satellites, tens of thousands of softball-size pieces of debris, and millions of fragmentations, there’s a lot of garbage orbiting Earth in addition to covering it. This installment in the Tech Bytes: Exploring Space series (6 titles) uses detailed text with timely examples to describe space junk and its increasing dangers. Readers will immediately understand some of these potential hazards following the book’s opening account of a 2022 rocket that delivered a module to the Chinese Tiangong space station but wasn’t given landing instructions for its return to Earth. Topical chapters explain what space junk is and how it’s tracked, natural space debris (asteroids, meteoroids, etc.), Earth’s ‘spacecraft cemetery’ (a remote part of the Pacific Ocean where space agencies sink spacecraft), and high-tech solutions being developed to deal with space junk. The already high-interest subject matter reaches maximum interest with further details on waste created in space (including flaming astronaut poop that burns up when returning to Earth) and other fascinating facts. Numerous photos from space complete the volume.”

—Booklist Starred Review, April 2023

“This season’s titles add six space-related topics to the series. Readers will explore black holes, the possibility of life on Mars, and amazing technology like the International Space Station. Each spread is balanced, with visuals to keep the eye entranced and text chunked for easy digestion of the information. Sidebars explore topics such as growing flowers in space or the Chandra X-ray Observatory. Text boxes call attention to extra details like the elements of a space elevator or spacesuit design. Captions on the images add even more information, while bolded terms appear in the glossary. The back matter includes suggestions for books, websites, and places to visit to learn more about each topic. VERDICT: Excellent for lessons on engineering and design, or to update collections.”

Astro the Alien Learns Life Skills

Ben and Eva teach Astro important life skills like empathy, perseverance, compassion, and more! With Ben and Eva's help, Astro practices these skills to interact better with others and learn to tackle the challenges that come his way.

New Series • 6 New Titles • See page 35

"Astro the Alien learns important life lessons from his friends Eva and Ben in this social-emotional learning series that teaches early readers empathy, responsibility, and other skills by following Astro as he navigates humanity. The books follow a formula: everyday occurrences lead Eva or Ben to acknowledge compassion, perseverance, or another topic, and Astro, knowing nothing of these Earth words, asks them to explain. After providing a definition, the rest of the book shows the traits in action. The text is followed by reading reinforcement activities, such as a word list, close reading questions, and fluency exercises."

Search for Sounds (Set 1)

The Search for Sounds series is designed to help students develop phonemic awareness within the context of story and picture. Students are presented with wordless books and have fun finding items in the pictures that highlight target sounds. Each sound's related letter is also on the page in a clear lower case font. Cumulative read-aloud texts linked to the pictures are read by the teacher and present social studies and science concepts of interest to young children. Some of the books include recurring characters exploring the topics while others are more typical nonfiction. Interest will be generated as your students work to isolate, identify, and link the sounds to words. The books include lists of suggested words/sounds to search for as well as a note to the caregiver. Grade: PK-K • Pages: 16

Friends and Family Fun (Set 2)

Students will be excited to explore this series of decodable books for early readers. Recurring characters and familiar contexts such as home or a park are mixed with humor, action, and fun. Readers will cheer as Ben gets a new pet or Zack sees a whale. Each cumulative book is for readers just beginning to decode words. The books begin by introducing the short vowels one at a time within a consonant-vowel-consonant pattern. Later books encourage the readers to incorporate consonant digraphs into their blending. Limited high-frequency words and supportive pictures help the reader successfully navigate the text while they practice essential decoding skills. Each title includes a note to the caregiver and a word list that is organized by Focus words, High-Frequency words and Challenging words. Grade: K-1 • Pages: 16

A section of the Qin wall in Mongolia. Most of the remaining wall has eroded and crumbled away over the centuries.

Enter the Han

More wall building took place in China in the years after Qin rule. Some rulers of the Han dynasty (202 BC to AD 220) strengthened the existing walls. Also, the emperor Han Wudi built some new sections, which's soldiers were about 400 miles (1,000 km) long. His builders used largely the same methods the Qin had.

Other times they combined twigs, marsh reeds, or other natural materials with dirt. It was vital to use local sources. To haul such heavy materials for hundreds of miles was just too time-consuming and costly.

Lifting the wood, earth, and other materials up the sides of high, steep hills was very hard. Where possible, people loaded these items into bags. They tied the bags to animals' backs. Then they drove the creatures up the hills. Another method was to use ropes to pull containers of materials upward. But just as often, workers carried the containers on their own shoulders or backs.

A few parts of the Qin walls can still be seen today. But many are gone. Some crumbled and disappeared through the effects of rain and wind. Others were replaced by bigger, stronger sections built more than 1,000 years later. These later parts of the Great Wall rose during the Ming dynasty. The wall's eventual story now turns to the work of the Ming. Without doubt, they rank among the greatest builders of all time.

Beginning-to-Read™ Overview

The Beginning-to-Read™ family of books are the gold standard for beginning readers. No other series of books matches a beginning reader's interest with their abilities so closely. From Fairy Tales and Folklore to Science and Spanish, BTRs are the place to start reading! BTRs contain low reading levels with sight words and repetition to gain confidence. Each book contains resources to assist caregivers and educators in the process of building a child's literacy and comprehension. Below is a brief description of each series in the BTR family of books.

Dear Dragon Developing Readers

Introduce your PK-K readers to the Dear Dragon character with the Dear Dragon Developing Readers series. The books provide emergent readers opportunities to read for meaning and gain fluency through simple story lines, strong picture support and repetition. Written at F&P levels A-D, these are the perfect start before moving on to the next series of Dear Dragon books. Each book includes a picture glossary, reading activities and Note to Caregiver.

Dear Dragon

Margaret Hillert's classic stories about a boy and his pet dragon. Follow the fun as the boy and the dragon play and learn together. Using high frequency words and repetition, readers gain confidence while enjoying fun stories. F&P levels range from E-G. Activities in the back of the book support Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Vocabulary Fluency and Text Comprehension. A word list and a Note to Caregiver is included.

Astro the Alien

Meet Astro the Alien! Astro landed on earth and now lives in Ben and Eva's backyard in a space pod! Being new on Earth, Ben and Eva help Astro learn about his new world and its inhabitants. Written at F&P levels H-I, they are slightly higher levels than the Dear Dragon series. Astro the Alien is the next step to help early readers build on previous skills; expanding vocabulary and learning more complex concepts. Educators' resources include reading reinforcement activities, word list and Note to Caregivers.

Fairy Tales and Folklore

These titles are retellings of classic Fairy Tales and Folklore stories in an easy format by Margaret Hillert. Illustrations provide lots of support in telling the story at a very low reading level. Newly re-illustrated for a fresh look at favorite tales. Activities in the back of the book support Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Vocabulary Fluency and Text Comprehension. A word list and a Note to Caregiver is included.

Easy Stories

Margaret Hillert's collection of 28 Easy Fiction Stories are written at a very low reading level and are about all kinds of kids and the things they like. From animals to space travel, these stories are fun while building reading confidence. Newly re-illustrated for a fresh, modern look. Activities in the back support Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Vocabulary, Fluency and Text Comprehension. A word list and a Note to Caregiver is included.

Read and Discover Science

This low reading level science series aligns with Next Generation Science Standards for grades K–2. Topics include Earth, Life, and Physical Science. Connecting Concepts activities in the back give educators and caregivers additional resources. The activities include graphic organizers, academic and scientific language lists, science in the real world examples, exercises to build fluency and places to get more information. Word lists and Note to Caregivers included.

Spanish and Bilingual

Many of Margaret Hillert's classic stories are available in Spanish-only or Bilingual editions. These fun stories are perfect beginning books for Spanish or English Language Learners. Bilingual books come with English and Spanish on the same page. Educators' resources include reading reinforcement activities in Bilingual edition, and Note to Caregivers in both editions.

Read and Discover Social Studies

This low reading level series covers nonfiction social studies and S.E.L. topics about everyday life and experiences. Content areas include emotions, sports, seasons, nature, community places, holidays, civics, economics and SEL for grades K–2. Reading Reinforcements in the back of the book cover Craft and Structure, Vocabulary, Foundational Skills, Close Reading and Fluency with high frequency and content word lists. Note to Caregivers included.

Pair-It! Twin Texts

Pairing the Read and Discover books with Dear Dragon titles focusing on the same concept allows you to incorporate "Twin Texts" to support the balance of reading nonfiction and fiction that is an integral goal of many state and national standards. See page 40 for the complete list of titles.

Dear Dragon Developing Readers

Introduce your PK-K readers to the beloved Dear Dragon character with the Dear Dragon Developing Readers series. The books provide emergent readers opportunities to read for meaning and gain fluency through familiar topics, simple story lines, strong picture support and repetitive high frequency words. Follow a boy and his pet dragon as they visit new places, meet new friends and explore their feelings. Written for the earliest F&P levels of A-D, these are the perfect start to reading before moving on to the next series of Dear Dragon books.

A Beginning-to-Read Book

NEW SERIES!

Astro the Alien

Astro the Alien landed on Earth and now lives in Ben and Eva's backyard in a space pod! Together they learn about the world around them and sometimes travel to far away places. Written at higher F&P levels than the Dear Dragon series, Astro the Alien is the next step to help early readers build on previous skills; expanding vocabulary and learning more complex concepts. Reading activities in the back of the books reinforce comprehension, vocabulary, close reading, foundational skills and fluency.

Book Features:

- Instructional note to caregivers
- Word list
- Reading activities in the back
- Educators' Resources available on our website

Pair-It! Twin Texts

Pairing the Read and Discover Social Studies books with Dear Dragon titles focusing on the same concept allows you to incorporate “Twin Texts” to support the balance of reading nonfiction and fiction that is an integral goal of the Common Core State Standards. Research cites that twin texts help encourage the enjoyment of reading while capitalizing on students’ fascination with facts. Educators can begin by reading the non-fiction book to build background, which helps support comprehension of the related fiction. Alternately, starting with the fiction, you can spark your child’s interest and expand his or her knowledge of the topic with the nonfiction text. Educators’ Resources and Correlations to CCSS are available on our website: www.norwoodhousepress.com

Read and Discover Social Studies

Read and Discover nonfiction readers feature engaging, informative text and beautiful full-color photographs, which work together to foster independent reading. Each title teaches content area concepts and vocabulary while reinforcing high-frequency words. Reading reinforcement activities strengthen early literacy skills, such as understanding the craft and structure of informational text, key vocabulary words, foundation skills, close reading, and fluency. This series can be used with beginning readers to:

- Practice reading high-frequency words.
- Expand comprehension of informational text.
- Improve oral language skills.

Social and Emotional Learning

These titles focus on social and emotional learning topics for young readers that include being kind to animals, our planet, each other, and themselves. These nonfiction Beginning-to-Read™ books connect social issues such as empathy and kindness to the social studies curriculum.

Read and Discover Features:

- Meets C3 Framework Standards for Social Studies
- Reinforces high frequency words
- Expands comprehension of informational text
- Reading Reinforcement Activities included

Praise for Being Kind to Animals

"Animals are a major part of our lives, be they household companions, in a country corral, or scampering through a nearby wood. This entry in the Read and Discover Social Studies series (4 titles) provides a gentle guide to considerate behavior around all kinds of animals, domesticated and wild. The first section focuses on pets, giving tips on interaction and care. The next extends to behavior around animals in their natural habitats, suggesting that the best way to care for living things is to look after the planet. Back matter includes suggestions to improve reading comprehension and vocabulary, and a complete word list offers fledgling readers help with fluency."

Big Feelings—Spanish

The Big Feelings series is an early introduction to social and emotional learning. These nonfiction beginning readers help students learn to recognize and name feelings so they can begin to discuss and manage them. Reading and content reinforcement activities can be found in the back of each book. The series can be used with beginning readers to practice high-frequency words, academic language, and to expand children's understanding of human emotions and how they influence interpersonal relationships.

Book Features:

- Perfect resource for working through SEL issues with young children
- Reinforces high frequency words
- Expands comprehension of informational text
- Reading Reinforcement Activities included

Poetry Builders

This series gets young students to write their own poems! They join in on the adventure as friends learn the basics of writing poetry and the use of rhyme, meter, alliteration, and other commonly used poetry tools. From limericks to acrostics, writers follow the story that shows the steps needed to create their new poem. Activities in the back of the book provide additional information and writing practice. Companion series to Writing Builders and Language Builders.

POEMS FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE

America is not easy. It's a land of high ideals and stirring icons, but it is also a land of harsh realities. We celebrate the incredible achievements of individuals as we turn our gaze from hunger and homelessness in the streets. We have a difficult time matching our words with our deeds. This is where poetry comes in. A poem has the ability to personalize the ideal, to make it tangible in a way that a speech or news report cannot. It can widen the angle through which we view society. It can move us to action. The poems in this anthology do just that: confront, challenge, and inspire. They take us on a journey toward social justice, starting in the shadows and slowly working our way home. Edited by Gail Bush and Randy Meyer. Foreword by COMMON.

GREAT DEBATES

TOUGH QUESTIONS / SMART HISTORY

Great Debates is an information-packed series that stimulates critical thinking with tough questions. Each book in the series aligns with the Common Core Language Arts Anchor Standards for Reading Informational Text and Speaking and Listening. Great Debates takes its name from the spirited discourse that surrounds each historical theme in the series. The narrative pauses at defining moments and “drops in” on influential Americans battling over two sides of a key issue. Readers learn how arguments are framed, and make eye-opening connections between great debates from the past and the ones that are taking place today. Text strengthens critical thinking skills with open-ended questions concerning social issues and history. Readers are invited to “find their own voice” and get involved if they find they have an interest in the issue.

Book Features:

- Meets Common Core State Standards for Language Arts
- Primary Sources Documents
- Glossary, Index, Additional Resources

The highly acclaimed Matters of Opinion series takes a look into important issues that young adults face. Each book features thought-provoking questions surrounding the issue and provides essays on both the pro and con points of view. As students learn more about the different sides of each issue, they can then start to formulate their own opinions on the topic. After each discussion, the reader is introduced to argumentative techniques that the authors used to present their viewpoints. These include using techniques such as the "Emotional Appeal", "Bias", "Testimonials" and more. These techniques are valuable both for essay writing and understanding how to differentiate opinions from fact. The last chapter encourages the reader to write their own opinion piece and provides guidance for working through the steps of essay writing.

Praise for How Money Works

Talking about money can be difficult, even for adults, but it is essential if one is to become financially independent and economically savvy. Using simple language in short, labeled paragraphs, this series contextualizes the way money works in communities, households, and the world at large, demonstrating that monetary issues don't exist in a vacuum. The authors delineate what countries, states, and cities spend money on, such as social programs, education, housing, and healthcare, and who is responsible for making broad financial decisions. The series also explains factors that affect families, such as budgets, credit, loans, insurance, taxes, rent, and much more, in an accessible way. Colorful, simply drawn graphics enhance the text, and helpful graphs and charts are employed to add perspective and illustrate more abstract concepts. VERDICT A comprehensive start to getting students to think about money and become responsible spenders and savers.

Guide to Educators' Resources

www.norwoodhousepress.com

Norwood House Press is committed to providing educators with professional development tools needed to succeed in today's busy educational environment. Whether it's Teachers' Notes or digital products, we have got you covered! Below is a summary of available resources.

Digital Resources

Norwood House Press books are available in digital editions to use in school or distance learning at home. We sell ebooks individually or in large bundles. To see licensing options and pricing, visit our website.

Teachers' Notes

These free, ready-to-print resources are available for most of our books. They include objectives, activities, and lessons to do before, during, and after the reading. To download and print these notes, go to the Educators' Resources tab on our website. The series that have Teachers' Notes are also noted in this catalog.

F&P and Lexile Leveling

We work directly with Fountas & Pinnell and Lexile to have our books leveled. These are true levels created by these organizations and not by third parties. If a title lists its level as TBD then it is in process and will be updated on our website when available.

Accelerated Reader

To check if a Norwood House Press title is available as a quiz on Accelerated Reader, please go to their website or search your AR database. Please contact Accelerated Reader directly if you have questions about quiz availability for titles not currently in their program.

Correlations and Standards

Under Educators' Resources on our website you will find major curriculum standards and how our books align with the standard. Our correlations are prepared by industry professionals. To access these, visit our website and select Educators' Resources tab at the top.

Google Preview

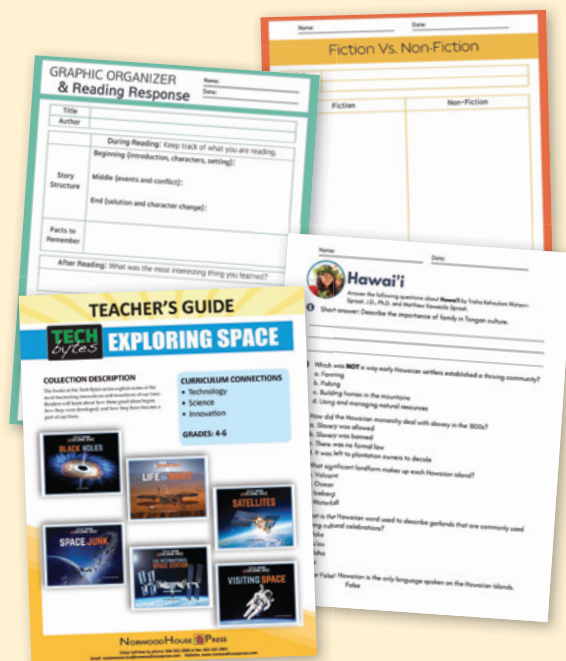

A sample of the interior of each book can be found on books.google.com. You can also go to our website. Once there, on the book detail page look for the "Look Inside" link. This link takes you to a preview of the book's pages to help get a feel if it's the right book for your needs.
